CAL POLY
Multicultural Business Program
ORFALBA COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

About MBP

who

The Multicultural Business Program (MBP) is a diverse, inclusive, and multicultural community led by students for students where they matter, belong, and with professional support are connected with resources to persist to graduation and beyond.

Vision

MBP envisions an Orfalea experience where all students are prepared for personal, academic, and professional success in a diverse and multicultural world.

Mission

MBP seeks to increase the enrollment, retention, and graduation of traditionally underserved, historically underrepresented and marginalized students in higher education and business.

MBP Cohort

description

The MBP Fellowship is designed for students to receive support services, resources, and opportunities throughout their journey at Cal Poly. Students are chosen from a competitive applicant pool during the summer prior to their first fall quarter at Cal Poly. MBP Fellows join a cohort of students during their first fall quarter at Cal Poly where they receive support from their first day on campus through graduation.

BUS 100 - ES 112 - BUS 206

As part of the Cohort, students are offered MBP specific class sections, building community, higher-education, and business skills.
